New York, October 10th, 2019

On the occasion of the opening of ArteLatAm in Colombia, an open call was launched for all Latin American Visual Artists to participate in a curated art exhibition titled "En_torno" that will take place this Friday, November 15th at 7 PM at "Geba Art Gallery" located at Carrera 15 N°82-35 Bogotá, Colombia.

ArteLatAm is a New York-based art organization founded with the mission of contributing to a deeper understanding of contemporary Latin American Art. Its main objective is to promote the visibility, training, and development of Latino visual artists for them to have a greater insertion in the Global Art Market, but mainly in the United States.

The designated art curators for this art exhibition are Ana María Trujillo from ArteLatAm Colombia and Carlos Torres Machado from ArteLatAm New York. From all the artists that applied for the open call, they have chosen 25 artists' finalists, and they will exhibit their artworks at "En_torno". From those 25 artists, these 2 judges will choose 5 artists that will win the award of showing their work in New York, United States.

The ceremony, which is part of the opening of ArteLatAm in Colombia and will be directed by its delegates: Freddy Martín, Director of Operations, and Ana María Trujillo, Curator and Project Director of ArteLatAm Colombia.

En_torno exhibition seeks to reflect through the artist's eyes the cultural dynamics of Contemporary Art in Colombia. The exhibition will be open from November 15th to December 4th, 2019.
